Notes: During a visit to Dartmoor, Spike Milligan had a local craftsman to make some handmade paper in the traditional manner, using Spike's signature and a ram as the watermarks. This Sheepstor handmade paper is exclusive to Toni Savage and is used only for Spike's poetry.

Copies found: One known copy owned by a British collector, sold by Little Stour Books.

I have no image of this book

This book is probably the holy grail for Spike Milligan collectors although few would even know about it. It has a very low print run (twelve), and is not found in current library catalogues or bibliographies. My knowledge of the book is a story in itself.
